Question 1:	Answer 1:
In the Logframe for the application there is the section "Current Value" of an Indicator, which as of this moment is the same value as the Baseline. Do we have to fill in the Current Value with the same info as the Baseline and update it in the later reports, or should it be left blank for now and only be filled out during the reporting phase?	The "Current value" column in the logframe should only be updated after the project starts, in interim and final reports.
