Financial Pledging Statement

Supporting the Future of Syria and the Region - Brussels VIII Conference
Brussels, 27 May 2024

Table 1

Funding confirmed by the international community for the Syria Crisis response

| Funding for 2024 | Funding for 2025 and beyond | Loans for 2024 and beyond |
|-------------------------|------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| EUR 3.85 B | EUR 1.16 B | EUR 2.51 B |
| USD 4.17 B | USD 1.26 B | USD 2.73 B |

The international community confirmed more than EUR 3.85 billion / USD 4.17 billion¹ in funding to support humanitarian, resilience and development activities in 2024 for the Syria crisis response, which includes pledges towards the Syria Humanitarian Response Plan (HRP), the Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan (3RP), and the ICRC Syria Crisis appeals. This funding also includes support channelled via multi-donor mechanisms, as well as other funding for 2024. It will help to meet the immediate and basic needs of those affected by the humanitarian crisis in Syria, including supporting resilience efforts as well as supporting host countries to address the impact of the protracted crisis. These efforts will aim to secure quality education for all children and livelihood opportunities for refugees and affected communities as well as promote basic public services and economic growth for the benefit of all (see table 2).

The international community confirmed more than EUR 1.16 billion / USD 1.26 billion in funding for humanitarian, resilience and development activities in 2025 and beyond for the Syria crisis response. This multi-year commitment by the international community to Syria and neighbouring countries is important in demonstrating a clear commitment to continued support for those most affected by the Syrian crisis and ensuring humanitarian and development agencies are able to plan ahead.

Loans pledged by
Multilateral Development Banks and bilateral donors
2024 and beyond⁴

| Institution | Loans (EUR) | Loans (USD) |
|---|----------------------|----------------------|
| European Investment Bank | 2,000,000,000 | 2,168,800,000 |
| World Bank | 368,867,577 | 400,000,000 |

| TOTAL | 2,518,867,577 | 2,731,460,000 |

In addition to grants, multilateral development banks (MDBs), and bilateral donors pledged more than EUR 2.51 billion / USD 2.73 billion of loans (see table 3). The terms of these loans are yet to be agreed. We urge a substantial part of these loans to be made on concessional terms either on IDA equivalent terms or consistent with the revised OECD DAC principles agreed on 16 December 2014. We welcome this commitment to the region and will support MDB's and bilateral donors' efforts to develop new ways of responding to protracted crises through increased access to sustainable lending.

Donors will work in coordination with the refugee-hosting governments, humanitarian and development agencies, and multilateral development banks to ensure that these financial pledges are honoured promptly to ensure that vulnerable Syrians and host communities receive the assistance needed.

Conversion rates are based on ECB rates of exchange as of 17 May 2024.

⁴ Amounts provided are indicative and will depend on the political evolution in the region.

⁵ The following donors announced loans: France.
